This institution, commencing in 1858 as an orphan asylum for girls, was incorporated in February, 1861, by a very liberal charter of the Legislature, giving it the right to embrace an orphan asylum for girls and one for boys, a home for aged women and one for men, and an infirmary. As yet only two departments have been established.

1. The Children's Department, which is in fact the original Church Home. By the legacy of Mr. Barret the corporators were enabled to purchase and furnish the cheerful house on Leigh street between Fifth and Sixth, with its large grounds. It is most admirably fitted up for the convenience of the children, and most efficiently conducted by its Board of Managers. At present there are thirty-one orphans at the Home, with two matrons and one teacher, and they form as happy a household and one as well provided for and carefully educated as any children in town.

2. The Women's Department, established early in 1875. It is located near the Chiliren's Home, on the corner of Sixth and Leigh streets—a cosy, charming home, where every reasonable comfort is enjoyed by its inmates, who here find a resting-place to pass the evening of their lives in peace. order, and contentment; with no cares, and every want supplied, the friendly interest of Christian women to watch over them, the best medical attendance, and regular pastoral supervision, this institution is emphatically a home of the poor. During its brief existence it has taken care of fourteen, who there found shelter and comfort. At present it contains seven happy and contented in-

It has though it is capable of accommodating over one hundred. The officers of the institution are as follows: Mrs. John L. Bacon, president, vice Mrs. Lucy M. Norton, deceased: Mrs. Dr. Peterfield Trent, secretary: Mrs. Walter K. Martin, treasurer, vice Mrs. Bacon; and Miss Mary Nicolson, Mrs. Frances Nelson, Miss Eliza Davenport, Mrs. Charles Gennett, Mrs. John B. Danforth,

The institution is admirably managed. and is in a very flourishing condition. The teachers are energetic and efficient, and the children are well taught and cared for in every respect.

Home for Aged Ladies.

The Home for Aged Ladies is located at No. 517 north Leigh street. It consisted originally of eight rooms, which were all furnished in walnut by Mr. Hanewinkel. It is an institution managed by the Episcopal churches in this city, except St. Paul's. Each lady having a room to herself, the house soon filled up. Mr. Hanewinkel, whose interest and generosity to this beauti- Mrs. Emily H. Stone, wife of E. R. Stone; ful and noble charity is given most liberally, built last summer an addition of twelve rooms, running up another story, introducing all the modern improvements and conveniences, and had the whole painted and transformed it into the handsomest house on north Fourth street.

The establishment is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and life memberships-$25 a life-membership; pay to the treasurer, Mrs. Lathrop, 311 Main street. There is no endowment yet. People give, as they feel interested or able, money, wood, coal, provisions, carpets, curtains, house-linen, rugs, china, books, or any of the comforts and conveniences which tend to make a home attractive and comfortable. Although the original house was furnished by Mr. Hanewinkel, the addition is entirely unfurnished. A gentleman recently visiting the Home, and noticing the absence in the new kitchen of a range, has ordered one to be put up at his expense. At a pound-party given last November, where each guest brought one pound, enough groceries were given to last nearly a year. The Home is open to visitors and their inspection every day after 12 o'clock. When a lady desires a residency, she makes application, stating age, necessities, ind references, through the corresponding secretary, who lays it before the Board at their next monthly meeting. They, after due consideration and inquiry, proceed to an election by ballot. If the applicant be admitted, and has been a resident of Richmond, she pays a fee of $150; if a non resident, $250. This entitles her to a life residency in a Home which is designed for gentlewomen. And it is the aim and purpose of those who have the direction of this benefaction to keep and care for its beneficiaries as gentlewomen, and to give them the comforts which women in their social position should have.

The first year of the establishment of the Home there were 13 applications, of which 4 were admitted; the second year 7, of which 4 were admitted. They are now two ladies waiting for admission, and if the finances will stand this additional tax their applications will be granted.

The following is the Board of Managers: Mrs. F. M. Whittle, president; Mrs. Joshua Peterkin, first vice-president; Mrs. William M. Jones, second vice-president; Miss Jes-sie Gordon, recording secretary; Miss Mary H. Maury, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. P. Lathrop, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Mc-Carthy, Mrs. William B. Isaacs, Mrs. A. Bargamin, Mrs. D. P. Halsey, Mrs. Thomas M. Saunders, Mrs. J. V. Hobson, Mrs. Peyton Carrington, Miss Elizabet Wood-

Incorporated in October, 1868. This institution divided into three departments-the asyfum proper, for female orphans; the acade my; and the parochial school for girls. The prphans number 65, and the pupils of the two schools 230. The institution is most excellently managed by thirteen Sisters of Charity, with Sister Mariana as superior. Their new building, which fronts on Fourth street, and which was completed within the past two years, is one of the finest and most substantial buildings for. school purposes to be found anywhere. During the preceding twelve months 156 patients were treated at the Church Institute, of whom 108 were white males, 26 white females, 22 colored males, and 8 colored females; 28 surgical operations were performed, 112 patients were discharged cured, 22 are under treatment, 9 deaths from all causes, 7 patients much relieved. For the last three months the Church Institute has been closed, the former superintendent having taken charge of the Pinel Hospital, a new hospital designed especially for the treatment of inebriates and mental diseases.

Victoria, Mother of the Order of the Little Sisters of the Poor in this city, assisted by five Sisters, is intended as a home for poor, destitute, aged persons, irrespective of sex or religious creeds. It was incorporated April 17, 1874, being established by the generous charity of the late W. Shakspeare Caldwell. There are now four men, three of whom are Catholics, and fifteen women, four of whom are Protestants, under the care of these angels of charity. Two of the old people have died since the incorpothe western limits of the city, in what is ration. The institution is supported en-

Eight girls were put out-to homes, chiefly in Richmond, and furnish excellent certificates of character from the families that employ them. At present there are 11 in the Home.

Since April last, the lady committee have undertaken most nobly to meet the current expenses of the Home, while the gentlemen managers will endeavor to pay off the debts of the institution, and also provide for the payment of the interest due on the money borrowed to secure the property. The ladies by their zeal and good management are interesting Norfolk, Lynchburg, Petersburg, Staunton, &c., in the support of the Home, while the Board of Gentlemen Managers have been compelled to pay their part of the expenses out of their own pockets. In the annual report referred to they asked to be aided in this work. The annual interest alone is $346.

In connection with their work, the ladies have established a prayer-meeting in the heart of the city, twice a week, where the unfortunate women of the town can resort for prayer and advice. The attendance has been most encouraging, and several girls have been sent to the Home through the influence of these meetings.

The ladies are endeavoring to procure work for the girls. They promise that the sewing shall be done cleiply and neatly. They ask for encouragement from the citizens in this regard. They also invite the ladies of the city to visit the Home and acquaint themselves with its management. The officers of the Society are W. W. Parker, M. D., president; Judge Robert Ould, vice-president; Thomas Branch, Esq., treasurer; W. P. Munford, secretary; and
